MOUND STREET ELEMENTARY SCHOOL
CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

Mound Street School with New Addition

Old Franklin Wastes Money

Don't figure on seeing clean, bright, efficient classrooms if you ever visit Franklin Street School. They just aren't there.

This antique, run-down structure is to be replaced if the $1,475,500 school bond issue is approved at the May 3 election.

One trip to the school, built in 1894, will show the youngsters of the Franklin-Mound district do not have equal educational facilities.

Proposed is a new, two-story, 14-room addition, which will include adequate classrooms, a multi-purpose room, and a hand-work room. It will connect with the present, modern, four-room Mound Street school.

Today, 476 pupils go to this school, which was labeled by the State Department of Education as "not fit to be repaired." The state school experts declared that it would be a complete waste to spend taxpayers' money on the present old building.

Here is a list of deficiencies in this structure:

Plaster is falling from ceilings, the roof leaks badly, some floors are splintery, two classes are being held in sub-standard basement quarters, toilets are beyond keeping sanitary.

Fire is an ever-present danger in the city's three old school buildings, with their bone-dry wooden interiors.

There is no assembly room. Children who come to school on buses must eat sack-type lunches in a crowded upstairs hall. Playground space is lacking.

Try as the teachers might, they cannot hide the basic faults of this building under artwork, maps and pictures.

Operation of the two buildings under one principal is a problem, particularly in winter. Trudging through six-inches of snow from one building to the next is not conducive to good administration.

Certainly, the nearly 500 students in this area deserve the best facilities available today. Without equal facilities they are at a disadvantage in competition with youngsters in other areas, cities and states. They must compete if they are to survive in later years.

Taxpayers have the duty to provide these young Americans with better schools May 3.

The school district is stable, with small chance for any large growth in the next decade. Therefore, the proposed structure will take care of this neighborhood for some time. There will be no idle rooms.

Use of offices, toilets and boiler room in the present Mound Street building will cut costs of building the addition.

State Department: $223,784,754, a cut of $23,228,856 from presidential requests and rejection of a bid for 568 new employees.

Justice: $278,220, a cut of $2,679,820.

Federal courts: $49,800,045, a reduction of $2,701,920.

U.S. Information Agency: $116,988,980, a cut of $6,804,200 including denial of funds for 126 new jobs.

President's special international program: $6,935,848, a cut of $1,664,152.

Civil Rights Commission: $850,000, a reduction of $145,000.

The committee criticized the State Department for what it called "a rather haphazard method of assigning personnel to overseas posts after they have completed a world language course at the Foreign Service Institute."

It said it had difficulty understanding how 700 dependents of State Department personnel could be trained at the Foreign Service Institute "at a cost of practically nothing" while additional money always is requested for training "a small number" of additional personnel.

None of the Justice Department's fund reductions was applied to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which was allotted the entire $118 million dollars requested, including financing for 137 additional clerical employees.

Through an executive advisory board of Chillicothe citizens, approved rooms are being obtained for students from other cities. Classes will be held in the First Presbyterian Church during the day and at Chillicothe High School in the evening, Gubitz said.

Students who do satisfactory work at the branch will have preference for enrollment at the Athens campus after one year, he added.

Five other branches at Lancaster, Zanesville, Ironton, Portsmouth and Martins Ferry offer late afternoon and evening programs.

Now Albert C. Gubitz, dean of the branches, reports that students can enter Ohio University through the Chillicothe branch college, offering both daytime and evening programs.

House Committee Cuts Ike's Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today rejected President Eisenhower's request for funds to hire 694 more employees in the State Department and the U.S. Information Agency.

In approving a $676,579,807 bill financing the two agencies along with the Justice Department and judiciary for the year starting July 1, the committee cut $37,223,948 from the President's initial requests.

However the reduction still leaves the agencies with $14,563,161 more than they were given last year in a comparable bill.

The committees recommendations were allotted this way:

State Department: $223,784,754, a cut of $23,228,856 from presidential requests and rejection of a bid for 568 new employees.

Justice Department: $278,220,800, a cut of $2,679,820.

Federal courts: $49,800,045, a reduction of $2,701,920.

U.S. Information Agency: $116,988,980, a cut of $6,804,200 including denial of funds for 126 new employees.

Civil Rights Commission: $850,000, a reduction of $145,000.

The committee criticized the State Department for what it called "a rather haphazard method of assigning personnel to overseas posts after they have completed a world language course at the Foreign Service Institute."

It said it had difficulty understanding how 709 dependents of State Department personnel could be trained at the Foreign Service Institute "at a cost of practically nothing" while additional money always is requested for training a "small number" of additional personnel.

None of the Justice Department's fund reductions was applied to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which was allotted the entire 118 million dollars it requested, including financing for 137 additional clerical employees.

Five other branches at Lancaster, Zanesville, Ironton, Portsmouth and Martins Ferry offer afternoon and evening programs.

Tires Taken At Station

Sheriff Checks Chillicothe Jobs

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff today pressed investigation of a burglary at the Sam Althouse service station on Route 23 about two miles south of Circleville.

Sheriff Radcliff said 13 new tires were missing. He said entry was made through a back door.

The burglary was discovered by State Highway Patrolman James Cooper who noticed a light in the building while on patrol south of here at about 3 a.m. today.

Deputy Charles Felkey was called to investigate for the sheriff's department.

SEVERAL burglaries were reported in Chillicothe last night. Sheriff Radcliff, along with an official from the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation traveled to Chillicothe today to check possibilities of a connection with the entry here and the ones in Ross County.

Deputy Felkey said everything appeared in order when he made a routine check on the station during patrol at 1:30 a.m. today.

Local Woman Files Appeal

Mrs. Mary R. Sowers, 724 Maplewood Ave., yesterday appealed a decision of the Ohio Bureau of Workmen's Compensation in the Pickaway County Clerk of Courts office.

Mrs. Sowers named James L. Young, Administrator of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau, The Industrial Commission of Ohio, and John W. Eshelman & Sons, E. Mill St., as defendants.

Her petition states that on Aug.

26, 1952 her deceased husband, Frank, sustained a back injury while unloading 80-lb. bags of lime from a truck.

He was employed by Eshelman at the time of his injury. She claims he died on Aug. 19, 1959 as a result of that injury.

Workmen's Compensation denied her claim on the basis his death was not as a result of his injury during employment.

27 Pct. of Ohio Parolees 'Fail'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Out of Ohio's overcrowded prisons they come, paroled at an average rate of 350 a month, swelling the ranks of some 6,000 former inmates now under parole supervision in this state.

Are they ready to rejoin society?

Usually the carefully-kept record before the Parole and Parole Commission indicates they are. And the five-member commission, which heard an average of 738 cases a month in January, February and March, is working in teams of two (with one member on duty in the commission office) to allow longer, more probing interviews with prospective parolees.

But the fact remains: One inmate in four (27.2 per cent, actually) won't make the grade and will be returned to prison. The reason isn't necessarily commissioning of a new crime. Some fail to report to parole officers. Some slip back into bad habits — late hours, poor companions, neglect of family, inability to hold a job. When it's evident serious trouble is brewing, they are returned.

"We know the man, and to some extent the woman, who is released has real problems," says Corrections Commissioner M. C. Koblenz. "There definitely is a gap between the institution and the outside world."

"We've felt for a long time that you can't send a man out without preparation."

So eight years ago the Division of Corrections began the pre-release program at Ohio Penitentiary, and since has extended it to Marion Correctional Institution and the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield. London Prison Farm is expected to start a similar program soon, and the reformatory for women at Marysville does it on an individual basis because the numbers there are smaller.

If job and living arrangements on the outside are completed and approved by the Bureau of Probation and Parole, it is about 30 days from granting of parole until the prisoner actually leaves the institution (60 days if he or she goes to another state).

In the waiting period, prison officials conduct the pre-release program, which is attended even by those who have been on parole previously and are going out again.

The institutional parole officer, who has helped determine where the prisoner will go and how he can support himself and his family, explains the rules that go with parole.

A representative of the Bureau of Probation and Parole, which directs the work of Ohio's 82 parole officers in the field, tries to stress that the parole officer is not merely a watchdog, but a counselor when the going gets tough.

Someone from the Ohio State Employment Service explains how that agency can assist when a job is needed, and—because three out of four men in prison have drinking problems—an Alcoholics Anonymous advisor also appears.

Of the pardon and parole commissioners emphasizes that parole is a trust, and that what the parolee does can help or hinder future parolees. From social agencies, local police departments and churches (or the prison chapel) come speakers who attempt to make it clear that the community is anxious for the ex-inmate to return and be a good citizen.

"We're anxious to get more business people and community fraternal-service organizations to help with this pre-release orientation," says Erwin A. Wendler, correctional counselor at Ohio Penitentiary. "It's a two-way street. By helping these parolees, people in the community learn what these people are up against."

Successful Bidders will be expected to enter into a contract with the said board within ten days after notice of acceptance of his proposal if the award is made to him.

The board of education reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Yochum Speaks On Schools

Capital Leader Outlines Problems

Dr. Harold Yochum, president of Capital University, Columbus, told Circleville Rotarians yesterday about the "Five Bs of Education."

Mr. Yochum's talk outlined the problems facing all colleges in the next decade. He also described present conditions in all schools across the country.

The five B's are:

Bulge — for the zooming student population, based on two factors, more births and more children going to college.

Brains — teachers make the schools. There is a shortage of teachers and it will get tighter as time passes.

Books — there is a need for children and college students to read more and comprehensive libraries are essential to good education.

Bricks — children need the best facilities available in order to have a good academic climate. The facilities should be efficient, economical and have esthetic qualities to lend a cultural influence to the teaching. As plants are needed for manufacturing, schools are needed for students.

Bucks — Operating schools is a non-profit business. They can't lay up surprises for lean years, so all operation must be within the budget. Students do not pay the full cost of college educations, the balance of the money comes from other sources.

Capping the talk, Dr. Yochum said, "Spending money for schools is not a gift, it is an investment."

Accused Cop-Slayer Enters Innocent Plea

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — James Buck, ex-convict accused of killing Akron Patrolman Floyd Weatherhol Jr. on March 25, entered a plea of innocent here Thursday after being charged in Municipal Court with first-degree murder. Buck, 23, had been hospitalized with a wound received in the gun battle in which Weatherhol was slain. Buck is being held without bail pending a preliminary hearing or grand jury action.

Some from the Ohio State Employment Service explain how that agency can assist when a job is needed, and—because three out of four men in prison have drinking problems—an Alcoholics Anonymous advisor also appears.

Of the pardon and parole commissioners emphasizes that parole is a trust, and that what the parolee does can help or hinder future parolees. Dear John:

Mary and I just wanted you to know we enjoyed very much visiting with you over the weekend.

On the way home we remembered what you'd said about your remodeling plans for this spring and it occurred to us that we hadn't mentioned to you the fact that Ashville Lumber Co. had been so helpful to us when we remodeled last year.

John, that's the ideal place to get all the supplies that you will need. They have the best quality lumber and building needs and they are very helpful in suggesting better ways to do things. And their prices will surprise you; they are much less than you would expect to pay for the type of service they offer.

We just thought you would welcome this little tip and Mary and I wish you all the luck on your projects.

Capital Leader Outlines Problems

Dr. Harold Yochum, president of Capital University, Columbus, told Circleville Rotarians yesterday about the "Five Bs of Education."

Mr. Yochum's talk outlined the problems facing all colleges in the next decade. He also described present conditions in all schools across the country.

The five B's are:

Bulge — for the zooming student population, based on two factors, more births and more children going to college.

Brains — teachers make the schools. There is a shortage of teachers and it will get tighter as time passes.

Books — there is a need for children and college students to read more and comprehensive libraries are essential to good education.

Bricks — children need the best facilities available in order to have a good academic climate. The facilities should be efficient, economical and have esthetic qualities to lend a cultural influence to the teaching. As plants are needed for manufacturing, schools are needed for students.

Bucks — Operating schools is a non-profit business. They can't lay up surpluses for lean years, so all operation must be within the budget. Students do not pay the full cost of college educations, the balance of the money comes from other sources.

Capping the talk, Dr. Yochum said, "Spending money for schools is not a gift, it is an investment."

Accused Cop-Slayer Enters Innocent Plea

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — James Buck, ex-convict accused of killing Akron Patrolman Floyd Weatherholt Jr. on March 25, entered a plea of innocent here Thursday after being charged in Municipal Court with first-degree murder.

Buck, 23, had been hospitalized with a wound received in the gun battle in which Weatherholt was slain. Buck is being held without bail pending a preliminary hearing or grand jury action.

One of the pardon and parole commissioners emphasizes that parole is a trust, and that what the parolee does can help or hinder future parolees. From social agencies, local police departments and churches (or the prison chapel) come speakers who attempt to make it clear that the community is anxious for the ex-inmate to return and be a good citizen.

"We're anxious to get more people and community fraternal-service organizations to help with this pre-release orientation," says Erwin A. Wendler, correctional counselor at Ohio Penitentiary. "It's a two-way street. By helping these parolees, people in the community learn what these people are up against."

Associated Press Details News Reporting Expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — The Associated Press has expanded enterprise activity in many news fields, Frank J. Starzel AP general manager, said today in the worldwide news cooperative's 60th annual report.

He said this activity "responded to the ever-growing demands by newspapers and broadcasters for more reporting-in-depth, more analysis of significance in events and trends, and wider portrayal in human interest or 'people to people' terms."

The report, for the year 1959, was mailed to AP members in advance of the AP annual meeting to be held April 25 in New York.

Starzel said that each year seems to outdo the previous in the complexities of reliably reporting the world news and that 1959 "repeatedly imposed upon your organization multiple tests of efficiency, ingenuity and competence."

quitted itself magnificently throughout the 12 months," he said. "The inevitable failures and disappointments were few indeed; the outstanding performances were numerous and gratifying.

"It was a year during which there was a heavy premium—with rewarding returns—on conspicuously sound organizing for the coverage of top stories such as President Eisenhower's Asian-European-African tour, Khrushchev's visit to the United States, and the prolonged multi-faceted steel strike."

Starzel said "staff teamwork and brilliant individual craftsmanship scored repeated triumphs under some of the most extraordinary working pressures ever experienced."

Starzel said bold new ideas were implemented in the AP's delivery or transmission system.

"Spectacular new techniques in high-speed wire service are achieving important operating gains for newspaper members," he said.

"A new financial service heads this advance, integrating four high-speed Teletypesetter circuits in simultaneous operation."

Noting that 1959 marked the 25th birthday of Wirephoto, Starzel said that "a record of 537 members served directly on the Wirephoto network was established."

"Ninety-one others subscribed to other types of Wirephoto service," he said.

He reported that 1,778 publications were represented in AP membership, a gain of 15, and said "memberships representing radio and television stations increased to 2,042, compared to 1,878 at the close of 1958."

"No matter where we live or how little amount of land we own it is only ours for awhile because the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof".

Attention was called to the Wednesday evening Holy Week service being carried out by the WSCS members.

A symbolic meal typical of Jesus' time will be served as part of the worship service. We are not highly educated people so we don't know what is considered good literature and what is plain dirty. The books I refer to have been best-sellers in the past few years, so I think you know which ones I mean. I skimmed through them and saw some 4-letter words we don't use in this house. Our son says if the books are in the public library they are O.K. What is your opinion?

OUT OF IDEAS

DEAR PARENTS: Books do not gain acceptance merely by being in the public library.

Many popular books full of 4-letter words and purple passages can be found there. You may not be "highly educated" but your instincts are correct. The churches, teachers and librarians are the best guides for young readers.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to the world's fussiest eater. He won't eat anything fried and he can't stand meat of any kind unless every bit of fat has been trimmed off. He hates anything green on the table and refuses all fowl no matter how you fix it.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to point out to "The Sister of Ed and Paul" that she'd better wipe the tears out of her eyes and read a book on wedding procedure.

Public Library Is No Censor

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 15 and likes to read. He goes to the public library every Saturday and brings home an armload of books. Lately he has been reading some books that seem immoral to us. We are not highly educated people so we don't know what is considered good literature and what is plain dirty. The books I refer to have been best-sellers in the past few years, so I think you know which ones I mean. I skimmed through them and saw some 4-letter words we don't use in this house. Our son says if the books are in the public library they are O.K. What is your opinion?

OUT OF IDEAS

DEAR OUT: Pablo.

DEAR ABBY: During my marriageable years (from 18 to 24) I was very shy and not very popular. Finally I married a man two years younger than myself, but he turned out to be a badly mixed-up mamma's boy so I divorced him.

Everyone takes me for about 24 to 28. I am 40. A 28-year-old man wants to marry me. Should I?

LOVELY AND LONELY

DEAR LOVELY: Does the 28-year-old man know that you are 40? If not—tell him. If you love each other and he knows your age, I see no reason why you shouldn't marry.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to point out to "The Sister of Ed and Paul" that she'd better wipe the tears out of her eyes and read a book on wedding procedure.

Circleville

April 8, 1960

As you know some of our children are going to old, inefficient, dirty, crowded schools. Others are in clean, though overcrowded, buildings.

If you don't believe so, take a look for yourself.

That is why the Circleville Bond Issue Committee has arranged a "Visitation Day" next Wednesday. The schools will be open during school hours. See how your children go to class. Get a first-hand opinion.

The teachers have been instructed to carry on the usual schedule. Drop in at any of the buildings. However, we would especially like for you to visit the older schools — High Street, Franklin Street and Walnut Street.

Once you actually see these schools in operation, we think you will agree, something must be done to replace these old, unsafe structures.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 15. He won't eat "mixtures" (steaks or spaghetti and meat balls are out) and he hates fish. To top it off, all he eats for dessert is ice cream. I have lived half a century and

Humility in the Kingdom

CHRIST'S DECLARATION THAT TRUE HAPPINESS WILL BELONG TO THOSE WHO DO NOT PERSISTENTLY SEEK PREFERENCE AND HONOR

Scripture—Matthew 5:5; Luke 14:7-14; 16:9-31.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
TO BEGIN this lesson it might be interesting to ask the pupils their definition of "humility." To some it may mean an insincere effort to cover up pride of one's character or accomplishments. But in others it is a sincere feeling of inferiority to the accomplishments of others whom they deem more talented or accomplished than they.

Christ Jesus said, in His Sermon on the Mount: "Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth."—Matthew 5:5.

The Rev. Wilbur M. Smith writes: "The word translated 'meek' here is one meaning 'gentleness of disposition, peacefulness of temper in the face of provocation and wrong.' It is the spirit of one who is not easily provoked, but keeps under control the natural instinct to assert oneself and to retaliate. It is the opposite of irascibility and the spirit of revenge."—Luke 14:12-14.

For the story of the rich man

GOLDEN TEXT
"For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."—Luke 14:11.

a deeper and wider significance. It is, to begin with, a disposition towards God, the humble submission to the Divine will, the quiet acceptance of the discipline of life as coming from One who, in infinite wisdom and love, directs the destinies of men."

Snead Labeled Lousy Actor

Sam Admits Losing Golf Match Twice

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead was chided and then forgiven today for one of the season's poorest acting performances on television — the golf match he had to lose twice.

"We must make one thing clear," said Harold Sargent of Atlanta, president of the Professional Golfers Assn., who announced a mild rebuke for Snead. "Sam didn't throw the match. He had already lost it. He was just trying to carry on the show. Morally he was trying to do something fair and sportsmanlike. Technically, he made a big mistake in judgment."

Snead was called on the carpet by the PGA Executive Committee and asked to explain the circumstances surrounding his now celebrated loss to Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., in television's "World Championship Golf" series (NBC).

The match was played and filmed at Bermuda's Mid-Ocean Club in December and shown on home screens last Sunday.

Watchers throughout the country must have been amazed to see Snead, one of the all-time greats, four-putt the 16th hole, flub an easy wedge shot and then three-putt the 18th to lose, one down.

Snead said he felt compelled to waste these shots after discovering on the 12th hole that he had 15 clubs in his bags, violating the 14-club rule. This calls for immediate disqualification under the rules.

LESSON No. 4

Correct Lineup for Arms and Hands

In starting, the left arm should be extended, the right kept at ease, and both hands should be on the club at the same angle.

© Syndicate, Inc.

Most difficulties experienced about the arms and hands are caused by faulty body positions or movements. For this reason pointers about the correct body positions and movements were given in preceding lessons.

If you have applied these pointers you should have no difficulty about properly lining up your arms and hands in the starting position. The left side of your body should be extended with the right side remaining at ease. Note that this places your left shoulder and hip higher than your right shoulder and hip.

In keeping with this background your left arm should be extended and your right arm kept at ease with both upper arms held close to your body. These arm positions enable you to properly place both hands on the club at the same angle, also to grasp the club firmly in the palm of the left hand and lightly in the fingers of the right.

From this starting lineup of arms and hands it is relatively easy to use them properly during the swing.

Pickaway Tops Jackson, 13-2

Pickaway wasted no time in disposing of Jackson yesterday, 13-2, behind the four-hitter pitching of Richard Dean, a slender sophomore fireballer.

Dean weakened in fourth inning to allow Jackson its two runs and then shut out the Wildcats the final three innings.

Pickaway opened the contest with three runs, notching two in the second and racking up four in the third stanza. Dean led Pickaway's slugging attack with 4 for 5 at the plate.

Only extra base hit of the game was Milt Martindale's double, his lone hit. In going the route, Dean walked four and fanned 15.

M. MARTINDALE and Ronnie Clifton handled the hurling chores for Jackson. Between the two they whiffed 13 and walked a like number.

This was the Pirates' initial win in as many starts and evened Jackson's slate at 1-1.

Tigers Drop Test To Cavaliers, 8-0

The first two innings were stumbling blocks as the Circleville Tiger baseball squad opened the 1960 season at Chillicothe with an 8-0 loss.

Chillicothe took advantage of four hits, three walks and three errors to score seven runs, four in the first frame and three in the second. The Cavaliers picked up their final tally in the sixth.

Sophomore Sam Weller came in the second to hurl commendable ball the rest of the day. He allowed three hits, walked none and fanned six.

Circleville found it hard to touch the offerings of Cunningham who fanned the first six batters he faced. Circleville finally got a man on base in the third when Jim Toolie was hit by a pitched ball. He was stranded as Cunningham proceeded to whiff the next three hitters.

The Tigers' best opportunity came in the fourth when Smith led off with a safe bunt, Jake Bailey was safe on an error and Strawser rifled a shot into left center to load the bases. Cunningham again bore down to whiff the next three men at the plate.

In the sixth Bailey walked and Strawser reached first on an error. Again the next three batters fanned to end the rally.

In the seventh Wellington, another sophomore, sent a long liner into right field for two bases. Larry Callahan walked with two down, but the next batter grounded out and the game.

Circleville resumes action tomorrow with a doubleheader at Logan. Chillicothe comes here Tuesday to open the home season.

Snead Labeled Lousy Actor

Sam Admits Losing Golf Match Twice

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead was chided and then forgiven today for one of the season's poorest acting performances on television — the golf match he had to lose twice.

"We must make one thing clear," said Harold Sargent of Atlanta, president of the Professional Golfers Assn., who announced a mild rebuke for Snead. "Sam didn't throw the match. He had already lost it. He was just trying to carry on the show. Morally he was trying to do something fair and sportsmanlike. Technically, he made a big mistake in judgment."

Snead was called on the carpet by the PGA Executive Committee and asked to explain the circumstances surrounding his now celebrated loss to Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., in television's "World Championship Golf" series (NBC).

The match was played and filmed at Bermuda's Mid-Ocean Club in December and shown on home screens last Sunday.

Watchers throughout the country must have been amazed to see Snead, one of the all-time greats, four-putt the 16th hole, flub an easy wedge shot and then three-putt the 18th to lose, one down.

Snead said he felt compelled to waste these shots after discovering on the 12th hole that he had 15 clubs in his bags, violating the 14-club rule. This calls for immediate disqualification under the rules.

LESSON No. 4

Correct Lineup for Arms and Hands

In starting, the left arm should be extended, the right kept at ease, and both hands should be on the club at the same angle.

© Syndicate, Inc.

Most difficulties experienced about the arms and hands are caused by faulty body positions or movements. For this reason pointers about the correct body positions and movements were given in preceding lessons.

If you have applied these pointers you should have no difficulty about properly lining up your arms and hands in the starting position. The left side of your body should be extended with the right side remaining at ease. Note that this places your left shoulder and hip higher than your right shoulder and hip.

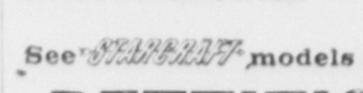

In keeping with this background your left arm should be extended and your right arm kept at ease with both upper arms held close to your body. These arm positions enable you to properly place both hands on the club at the same angle, also to grasp the club firmly in the palm of the left hand and lightly in the fingers of the right.

From this starting lineup of arms and hands it is relatively easy to use them properly during the swing.

SPORTS

The Circleville Herald, Fri, April 8, 1960

Circleville, Ohio

Tigers Drop Test To Cavaliers, 8-0

The first two innings were stumbling blocks as the Circleville Tiger squad opened the 1960 season at Chillicothe with an 8-0 loss yesterday.

Chillicothe took advantage of four hits, three walks and three errors to score seven runs, four in the first frame and three in the second. The Cavaliers picked up their final tally in the sixth.

After the first two innings, the game settled down to a close battle. Both teams threatened at intervals, but could not fashion scoring punches.

Keith Cunningham, Chillicothe's big ace righthander, kept Circleville bats in check the four innings he worked on the mound. The fireballer garnered 12 strikeouts, retiring the side on whiffs every inning he hurled.

The Tigers touched Cunningham for two hits, a bunt single by Dave Smith and a solid one-bagger by Harry Strawser. Both the bingers came in the fourth inning when the locals loaded the bases with none down, but could not score.

Circleville ended with four hits for the day, with Steve Helwagen getting a single and Jimmy Wellington a double off southpaw Monty McMillian who relieved Cunningham in the fifth.

Danny Leonhardt, plagued by crippling errors, hurled 1 2/3 innings for Circleville. He allowed four hits and walked yesterday.

Sophomore Sam Weller came on in the second to hurl command ball the rest of the way. He allowed three hits, walked none and fanned six.

Circleville found it hard to touch the offerings of Cunningham who fanned the first six batters he faced. Circleville finally got a man on base in the third when Jim Tootle was hit by a pitched ball. He was stranded as Cunningham proceeded to whiff the next three hitters.

The Tigers' best opportunity came in the fourth when Smith led off with a safe bunt, Jake Bailey was safe on an error and Strawser rifled a shot into left center to load the bases. Cunningham again bore down to whiff the next three men at the plate.

In the sixth Bailey walked and Strawser started first on an error. Again the next three batters fanned to end the rally.

In the seventh Wellington, another sophomore, sent a long liner into right field for two bases. Larry Callahan walked with two down, but the next batter grounded out to end the game.

Circleville resumes action tomorrow with a doubleheader at Logan. Chillicothe comes here Tuesday to open the home season.

Invited to School

Walnut Twp. School, Route 1, Ashville, is planning visiting days on April 19, 20 and 21, from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m., according to school principal, Carl Bennett.

The purpose of the visiting days is to give the patrons of the school a chance to see the school in action; to see the conditions under which the children work and play and to participate in the school lunch program with the object in mind that corrective suggestions may be made in regard to the children's opportunities to learn.

At a recent meeting of room mothers and others, committees were appointed. The following attended the meeting: Mrs. Ronald Glick, Mrs. Neil Barr, Mrs. Lowell Archer, Mrs. Harold Hill, Mrs. Gordon Perrill, Mrs. Paul Riegel, Mrs. Howard Runkle, Mrs. Hubert Puckett.

The first day will be devoted to the parents of children in the first three grades. The second day will be devoted especially to the parents of children in the intermediate grades.

April 21 will be given over to parents who have children in junior and senior high school. However, opportunity will be given to each parent to visit as many departments as they wish to visit.

If parents or patrons cannot come on the day specifically set apart for their group, school officials urge patrons to come on one of the other days.

Personal Tax Deadline Near

The Pickaway County Auditor's office today reminded county residents that the deadline for paying personal property taxes is April 30.

Failure to pay taxes within allotted time will result in a 5 per cent penalty for the first quarter of delinquent payment, 10 per cent for the second quarter and 15 per cent for the third quarter.

All individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations engaged in business, such as manufacturers, merchants, farmers, lawyers, doctors, dentists, accountants, and others, are required to file personal property tax returns with the county auditor.

All residents of Ohio owning intangible property, regardless of its use, such as stocks, bonds, notes, debentures, credit balances with brokers, and other intangible property, are also required to file returns with the county auditor.
